

USM Student Beaten on Greek Row

HATTIESBURG - USM freshman Stuart Ramsey recuperating in his Jackson home today after having been badly beaten on the USM campus on Saturday evening. Ramsey's father, Tom, told The Hattiesburg American that Stuart, who is 18, suffered (1) a broken hand, (2) a concussion, (3) numerous lacerations, (4) numerous bruises, and (5) multiple boot prints as a result of being attacked from behind by members of USM's Sigma Phi Epsilon fraternity. USM police chief Bob Hopkins informed THA that no suspects had been developed yet. From that point Hopkins refused to provide additional information about the episode.

Stuart Ramsey, shown below, was treated on 4-Dec-2010 in the emergency room at Forrest General Hospital - the same facility wherein three USM football players who were shot outside a notorious Hattiesburg nightclub were recently treated - and admitted for overnight observation before being released on 5-Dec-2010.

Sources tell USMNEWS.net that the Ramsey case could conceivably rise to a felony, given the severity of Ramsey's injuries and other aspects reported to THA about the case. It seems clear today, according to sources, that the Ramseys are not going to let this case become stale.
