

Hillary missed a chance at this?

In an earlier blog we were informed that Senator Hillary Clinton appearing in Hattiesburg did not fit into Dr. Saunders time schedule so she did not stay to try to meet with her. Had Senator Clinton known of the potential future photo ops (see below), and challenges of, for example, judging chili contests, we feel sure she would have freed up her schedule to accommodate Dr. Saunders.

Perhaps in a future blog we will be treated to a key to all the players in this blog so we can all follow along. The blog frequently reads like a text update for a sorority newsletter. Until that time, we will remain all atwitter over what social event USM's President will be a part of next.

Remember: let's be positive out there!
